

The Building New Hope Coffee Project

Central American, Organic, Shade Grown, Fair Trade Coffee

- The farmers win: Our signature coffee — roasted to a light French roast, yielding a medium body, crisp, full flavor cup of coffee — comes directly from El Porvenir, a farming cooperative of 48 families near Leon, Nicaragua. Our buying this coffee guarantees fair market and living wages for the farmers. It helps ensure they stay on their land and helps improve their way of life.
- The environment wins: The farmers use recognized proper environmental practices from planting through processing. Our shade grown coffee reduces soil erosion and maintains biologically diverse habitat for plants, birds, & other wildlife. The coffee is certified organically grown by the OCIA (Organic Crop Improvement Association).
- Building New Hope wins: for every pound of coffee we sell, BNH is able to devote funds to any one of our numerous sponsored projects . To learn about all we do with education, medical, and job training, visit our Web site at buildingnewhope.org. Our efforts, which began in 1992, have helped assist in the improvement of the lives and livelihoods of many individuals and communities in Central America.

Fresh roasted by The Commonplace Coffee Company, Indiana PA; packed and shipped by volunteers.

For more information on Building New Hope fundraising and volunteering opportunities, contact Barbara Wein, 412.421.1625.

Building New Hope is a Pittsburgh based 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that supports communities in development in Central America since 1992.

Read more about the work of Building New Hope at our Web site, www.buildingnewhope.org