

BUILDING
NEW HOPE
WITH EVERY CUP
OF COFFEE

Putting Partnership at the Heart of Trade
You, as a consumer, can make a difference. Help build a future of hope and opportunity in Central America.

Building New Hope for :

- Central American farmers and their families: Our signature coffee comes from El Porvenir, a worker-owned cooperative in Nicaragua. Selling this coffee guarantees a fair market price and living wage for the farmers, and enables the families to stay on their land and invest in their community.
- The environment: Our coffee is certified organically grown by the OCIA, the Organic Crop Improvement Association, which means pesticide-free. The coffee is also shade grown, providing crucial habitats for migratory birds.
- Children, at-risk youth, and families: All profits from the sale of coffee help fund other health, education and development projects in Central America.
- You: Our coffee is roasted to order by The Commonplace Coffee Company, a premier roaster in Indiana, PA. These hand-picked, patio dried Arabica beans are roasted to a light French roast, yielding a medium body, crisp, full flavor cup of coffee.

BUILDING
NEW HOPE
WITH EVERY CUP
OF COFFEE

Putting Partnership at the Heart of Trade
You, as a consumer, can make a difference. Help build a future of hope and opportunity in Central America.

Building New Hope for :

- Central American farmers and their families: Our signature coffee comes from El Porvenir, a worker-owned cooperative in Nicaragua. Selling this coffee guarantees a fair market price and living wage for the farmers, and enables the families to stay on their land and invest in their community.
- The environment: Our coffee is certified organically grown by the OCIA, the Organic Crop Improvement Association, which means pesticide-free. The coffee is also shade grown, providing crucial habitats for migratory birds.
- Children, at-risk youth, and families: All profits from the sale of coffee help fund other health, education and development projects in Central America.
- You: Our coffee is roasted to order by The Commonplace Coffee Company, a premier roaster in Indiana, PA. These hand-picked, patio dried Arabica beans are roasted to a light French roast, yielding a medium body, crisp, full flavor cup of coffee.

BUILDING
NEW HOPE
WITH EVERY CUP
OF COFFEE

Putting Partnership at the Heart of Trade
You, as a consumer, can make a difference. Help build a future of hope and opportunity in Central America.

Building New Hope for :

- Central American farmers and their families: Our signature coffee comes from El Porvenir, a worker-owned cooperative in Nicaragua. Selling this coffee guarantees a fair market price and living wage for the farmers, and enables the families to stay on their land and invest in their community.
- The environment: Our coffee is certified organically grown by the OCIA, the Organic Crop Improvement Association, which means pesticide-free. The coffee is also shade grown, providing crucial habitats for migratory birds.
- Children, at-risk youth, and families: All profits from the sale of coffee help fund other health, education and development projects in Central America.
- You: Our coffee is roasted to order by The Commonplace Coffee Company, a premier roaster in Indiana, PA. These hand-picked, patio dried Arabica beans are roasted to a light French roast, yielding a medium body, crisp, full flavor cup of coffee.

Partnering for Sustainable Development in Central America

Who We Are

In addition to our fair trade coffee project, Building New Hope operates a number of innovative, educational programs in Granada, Nicaragua. These include:

- Quinta Los Chavalos ("Kids' Place"): a school for barrio children offering a creative and comprehensive education
- Rhythm in the Barrios: a unique program bringing the love of music to children in remote rural communities
- Escuelita Yo Puedo (" Little 'I CAN' School"): an innovative alternative school in a poor, underserved neighborhood
- Puedo Leer ("I Can Read"): the very first lending library in Granada and a reading program bringing books into the schools
- Proyecto Alas ("Project Wings"): provides scholarships to deserving high school students, cultural field trips and mentoring and volunteer experiences
- Casa Lupita: a veterinary clinic for street animals and work horses

You can make a difference. Help build hope and possibilities in the lives of the Central American people.

To donate needed funds to support our work visit our website or write us at:
Building New Hope
106 Overton Lane
Pittsburgh, PA 15217.

For information,
phone: 412-421-1625
email: buildnewhope@verizon.net
www.buildingnewhope.org

Building New Hope is a Pittsburgh based 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that has been supporting communities in development in Central America since 1992.

Partnering for Sustainable Development in Central America

Who We Are

In addition to our fair trade coffee project, Building New Hope operates a number of innovative, educational programs in Granada, Nicaragua. These include:

- Quinta Los Chavalos ("Kids' Place"): a school for barrio children offering a creative and comprehensive education
- Rhythm in the Barrios: a unique program bringing the love of music to children in remote rural communities
- Escuelita Yo Puedo (" Little 'I CAN' School"): an innovative alternative school in a poor, underserved neighborhood
- Puedo Leer ("I Can Read"): the very first lending library in Granada and a reading program bringing books into the schools
- Proyecto Alas ("Project Wings"): provides scholarships to deserving high school students, cultural field trips and mentoring and volunteer experiences
- Casa Lupita: a veterinary clinic for street animals and work horses

You can make a difference. Help build hope and possibilities in the lives of the Central American people.

To donate needed funds to support our work visit our website or write us at:
Building New Hope
106 Overton Lane
Pittsburgh, PA 15217.

For information,
phone: 412-421-1625
email: buildnewhope@verizon.net
www.buildingnewhope.org

Building New Hope is a Pittsburgh based 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that has been supporting communities in development in Central America since 1992.

Partnering for Sustainable Development in Central America

Who We Are

In addition to our fair trade coffee project, Building New Hope operates a number of innovative, educational programs in Granada, Nicaragua. These include:

- Quinta Los Chavalos ("Kids' Place"): a school for barrio children offering a creative and comprehensive education
- Rhythm in the Barrios: a unique program bringing the love of music to children in remote rural communities
- Escuelita Yo Puedo (" Little 'I CAN' School"): an innovative alternative school in a poor, underserved neighborhood
- Puedo Leer ("I Can Read"): the very first lending library in Granada and a reading program bringing books into the schools
- Proyecto Alas ("Project Wings"): provides scholarships to deserving high school students, cultural field trips and mentoring and volunteer experiences
- Casa Lupita: a veterinary clinic for street animals and work horses

You can make a difference. Help build hope and possibilities in the lives of the Central American people.

To donate needed funds to support our work visit our website or write us at:
Building New Hope
106 Overton Lane
Pittsburgh, PA 15217.

For information,
phone: 412-421-1625
email: buildnewhope@verizon.net
www.buildingnewhope.org

Building New Hope is a Pittsburgh based 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that has been supporting communities in development in Central America since 1992.